Dear Colleagues,

We are happy to invite you to a two-day international conference on “Treatment Modalities for Eating Disorders: Consensus and Controversy”. The conference will take place (in English and Hebrew) on Monday, February 4 and Tuesday, February 5 at the Ramada Hotel in Jerusalem, Israel, with a Teaching Day (in Hebrew only) on Sunday afternoon, February 3. The conference will have a clinical focus, offering professionals who treat eating disorders and obesity an opportunity to broaden their knowledge and expertise.

We aim to present a comprehensive, varied, thought-provoking and informative program, appropriate for a wide range of professional disciplines including endocrinology, the expressive therapies, internal medicine, nursing, nutrition and dietetics, pediatrics, psychiatry, psychology, social work, and sports medicine. Each day’s program will include four plenary lectures focusing on state-of-the-art treatment modalities in the field of eating disorders and obesity, workshops for specific professions, and short paper sessions on clinical and research issues. All plenary lectures will take place in English, as well as the majority of workshops and short paper sessions (selected workshops and parallel sessions will be held in Hebrew).

We have made every effort to invite world renowned experts, and are delighted to announce that confirmed keynote speakers and workshop presenters include Ms. Judith Banker, Dr. Eric F. van Furth, Professor Debra Katzman, Professor James Lock, Professor Ulrike Schmidt and Ms. Kate Williams.

Abstracts of no more than 250 words in English are invited for short oral presentations and posters. They should relate to recent research or clinical issues such as treatment approaches, outcomes, controversies, or unusual case reports. At the top please note: title, presenter’s name (underlined), collaborators’ names, all affiliations, and preferred presentation method (oral presentation or poster). The body of the abstract should include: theoretical background, aims, methods, results and conclusions (without subheadings). They should be sent to: conventions@isas.co.il no later than August 31, 2012. The Conference Scientific Committee will then review the abstracts and announce their decisions.

The Conference was initiated by the Israel Association for Eating Disorders (IAED) and is being organized in collaboration with ISAS International Seminars.

We look forward to welcoming you in Jerusalem.

Conference Organizing Committee:

for Eating Disorders

Invited Speakers

Ms. Judith Banker

Judith Banker is the founder and executive director of the Center for Eating Disorders, a non-profit support and outpatient treatment center in Ann Arbor, Michigan nearing its 30th year of service. She is a member of the Professional Advisory Panel of F.E.A.S.T. (Families Empowered and Supporting Eating Disorder Treatment), the Advisory Board of the Academy for Eating Disorders (AED), and a member of the Scientific Advisory Board for the Global Foundation for Eating Disorders. The 2011 recipient of the AED Clinical Leadership Award, Judith lectures internationally on clinical treatment, in particular on the transtheoretical application of psychodynamic principles and techniques in eating disorder treatment and the integration of research with clinical experience. Her research and publications address a range of topics including research-practice integration, effective eating disorder treatment, and early identification and screening for eating disorders. Judith is past president and a Fellow of the AED.

Title for presentation: The chimera of evidence-based practice: Promises and pitfalls for eating disorder treatment and research

Title for workshop: The perfect fit: How to combine research findings with clinical experience to provide the best treatments for people with eating disorders

Professor Debra Katzman

Dr. Debra Katzman, MD, FRCP(C), is a Professor of Pediatrics, Head of the Division of Adolescent Medicine, Department of Pediatrics and University of Toronto (UofT), and Senior Associate Scientist at the Research Institute at the Hospital for Sick Children. In addition, she is a Member of the Institute of Medicine at the UofT. She is the Past-President of the Academy for Eating Disorders (AED) and president-elect for the Society of Adolescent Health and Medicine (SAHM). She is a Fellow of the AED and of SAHM. Dr. Katzman is also the Chair of Specialty Committee for Adolescent Medicine at the Royal College of Physician and Surgeons of Canada.

The focus of Dr. Katzman's research program has been to study and understand the unique physiologic and developmental issues in children and adolescents with eating disorders. She has been particularly interested in the medical complications associated with pediatric eating disorders; specifically osteoporosis, brain structure and function, and amenorrhea. New research priorities include exploration and improvement in the current diagnostic classification system for early-onset eating disorders and the investigation of effective treatments for children and adolescents with eating disorders. She has published over 100 articles, abstracts, book chapters, and editorials. Dr. Katzman co-edited a book for parents on eating disorders, "Help for Eating Disorder: A Parent's Guide to Symptoms, Causes and Treatment". In addition, she is an associate editor for an adolescent medicine textbook, "Adolescent Health Care: A Practical Guide

5th edition". Dr. Katzman is on the editorial board of the Journal of Adolescent Health. She also lectures nationally and internationally on child and adolescent-onset eating disorders.

Title for presentation: Bone mineral density

Title for workshop: Medical complications of eating disorders on children and adolescents

Professor James Lock

James Lock, MD, Ph.D. is Professor of Child Psychiatry and Pediatrics in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Stanford University School of Medicine where he also serves as Director of the Eating Disorder Program for Children and Adolescents. Dr. Lock has published over 200 articles, abstracts, books and book chapters. He is the past recipient of a National Institute of Health (NIH) Career Development Award and a current recipient of a Mid-Career Award. He is active in research with 4 currently NIH funded projects related to eating disorder treatment in children and adolescents and young adults as well as numerous national and international collaborations. His recent research focuses on integrating treatment research with neuroscience in eating disorders, including examining neurocognitive processes and their functional and neuroanatomical correlates. He has lectured widely in the US, Canada, Europe, South America, Asia and Australia. Dr. Lock's current research focused on interventions for Anorexia Nervosa and Bulimia Nervosa in younger patients is funded by the National Institutes of Health in the USA. He was awarded the Price Family Foundation Award for Research Excellence in 2010.

Title for presentation: Using Family-Based Treatments for adolescent eating disorders: Empirical support for efficacy and dissemination

Title for workshop: Introduction to the key components of Family-Based Treatment for adolescent anorexia nervosa

Professor Ulrike Schmidt

Ulrike Schmidt, MD PhD FRCPsych FAED is Professor of Eating Disorders and Head of the Section of Eating Disorders at the Institute of Psychiatry, King's College London, UK. Her research interests cover all aspects of eating disorders, but in particular the area of psychological treatments, self-care treatments, and the use of new technologies. She is Principal Investigator of an NIHR programme grant on new treatments for anorexia nervosa.

Title for presentation: The challenge of treatment of adults with anorexia nervosa

Title for workshop: Working with the Maudsley model of anorexia treatment for adults

Dr. Eric F. van Furth

Eric van Furth, Ph.D., FAED is Clinical Director of the Center for Eating Disorders Ursula in Leidschendam, the oldest and largest specialized treatment program for eating disorders in the Netherlands (700 patients at any time). Dr. van Furth is a clinical psychologist and psychotherapist. After receiving his Ph.D. in psychology from Utrecht University, Dr. van Furth went on to pen over 50 publications, primarily journals, chapters, educational videos, and conference papers on eating disorders. He has also published three books on the subject and is a member of the Editorial Advisory Board of the International Journal of Eating Disorders (IJED), European Eating Disorders Review (EEDR) and Eating Behaviors. He has been working clinically with patients with eating disorders for more than 25 years. After holding a seat as the Chair of the Dutch Multidisciplinary Treatment Guideline Workgroup on Eating Disorders (2004-2006), he is currently a Fellow and Past-President of the Academy for Eating Disorders.

Title for presentation: How do we improve our care for individuals with an eating disorder? Service delivery and ethical dilemmas

Title for workshop: E-mental health for eating disorders: Proud2Bme and FeatBack

Ms. Kate Williams

Kate Williams BSc MA RD is Head of Nutrition and Dietetics at the South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust. Ms. Williams graduated first in zoology, then took a post-graduate qualification in nutrition and dietetics. She also has an M.A. in the history of science and medicine.

After working for eleven years as a dietitian in acute general hospitals and in primary care, and developing a particular interest in obesity management, she moved into mental health care, setting up a new dietetics service in what was then the Maudsley and Bethlem Royal Hospitals. The service now has 9 dietitians, with specialist teams for eating disorders, and for the management of obesity and metabolic syndrome. Ms. Williams has always had a particular interest in the often complicated and difficult relationships that people have with body weight and food. She has worked particularly on developing the application of psychological strategies for behaviour change to eating behaviour, especially in eating disorders.

Title for presentation: The dietitian's contribution to recovery from an eating disorder - interventions and outcome

Title for workshop: Recovering control of appetite - managing binge eating and body weight
